Established by the Trade Act of 1974 (19USC 2273), Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) aids workers who lose their jobs or whose hours of work and wages are reduced as a result of increased imports or a shift in production out of the country. Under this program, individuals may qualify to receive allowances for training, job search, and relocation. Additionally, Trade Readjustment Allowance (TRA) provides additional unemployment compensation to individuals in full-time TAA occupational training. The goal is to help laid-off workers return to suitable employment as quickly as possible.
